

NORTH CAROLINA STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS OF ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS

NEWSLETTER

AUGUST 2013, EDITION #64

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

It is an honor to share this message as the newly elected chairman of the Board. My fellow board members and the staff have been excellent partners in serving the electrical contracting industry and the people of this great state of North Carolina. It would usually be a mistake to name one person to thank for this honor—there are many. Instead, I will thank the man who made this board the honorable group of “servant leaders” it is today, Mr. Curtis Kennedy. Mr. Kennedy, we all owe you our gratitude. Thank you for your wisdom and rock-solid moral foundation. You encourage me and energized me. Knowing that I am a part of the legacy you dedicated so much of yourself to is a great honor.

The economy is improving. You survived the worst economic times most of us have ever seen. It's been tough. Things are slightly better, but living through something like that makes us cautious about moving forward. You are uniquely gifted and are contributing to your communities in real and significant ways. Not everyone has the abilities you have. You analyze problems, formulate solutions, and implement those solutions. Think of this gift as your most precious capitol that needs to be maintained and invested in. What can you do or buy that will give you a competitive edge?

Doing nothing is not an option, but a poor one. Benjamin Franklin said, “An investment in knowledge pays the best interest.” Commit to read something every day—something interesting, appropriate, and even fun. The difference is what we and those who work with us know.

Journeyman program

A frequent concern of your board involves issues of proper supervision by a qualified person. A strict adherence to the letter of this law would limit your ability to grow. You just couldn't be on all of your jobsites at the same time. Some jurisdictions have already established journeyman programs with good results.

Our families see us investing in ourselves and know it's what we all should do. You are leaders and the community needs our best.

The challenge to be more...

Finally, make the most out of your Board. We're here to serve you. Let us know how we can help, especially as it related to timely and relevant continuing education topics.

I look forward to continuing my service on the Board and working with a fantastic group of folks. Together we will serve you and accomplishing great things.

Dr. John Kelly, Board Chairman

LICENSE LAW AMENDED

The General Assembly amended the electrical contracting license law by adding two new exceptions to 87-43.1 as follows:

1. To the bonding of corrugated stainless steel tubing (CSST) gas piping systems as required under Section 310.1.1 of the 2012 N.C. Fuel Gas Code. In addition to licensed electrical contractors, this new exception allows CSST installers to install the bonding conductor from the point where the gas service enters the building and connect it to the electrical service grounding electrode system provided that the work complies with the requirements of the 2012 NC Fuel Gas Code, Section 310.1.1.
2. To the installation, maintenance, or replacement of any load control device or equipment by an electric power supplier, as defined in G.S. 62-133.8, or an electrical contractor contracted by the electric power supplier, so long as the work is subject to supervision by an electrical contractor licensed under this Article. The electric power supplier shall provide such installation, maintenance, or replacement in accordance with (i) an activity or program ordered, authorized, or approved by the North Carolina Utilities Commission pursuant to G.S. 62-133.8 or G.S. 62-133.9 or (ii) a similar program undertaken by a municipal electric service provider, whether the installation, modification, or replacement is made before or after the point of delivery of electric service to the customer. The exemption under this subdivision applies to all existing installations. In addition to licensed electrical contractors, this new exception permits an electrical power supplier to install their load control devices so long as the installation is supervised by a licensed electrical contractor. In other amendments to 153A-357(a) and 106A-417(a), this work is now exempt from permits and inspection.
